

Project Title

Visualizations of live tennis match scores

Because of its tradition, the tennis scoring system is more complicated and confusing than most other sports. The common method of numerical score keeping can be difficult to follow and it fails to present interesting characteristics of the games. I developed a method to visualize live tennis match scores, so it is easy to understand, convey, display a rich set of information and provide meaningful information to viewers.

Professor: Dr. Ying Zhu
Student: Sai Amar Nath Chintha
Defense Date: 1:00 – 1:30, December 6th
Defense Location: N318, Library north, GSU